Interest rates

Your tailor-made quotation.

You want to repay your mortgage with constant monthly payments?

Our advice: You should choose a FIXED RATE mortgage. When the mortgage is signed, a constant rate is calculated on the basis of current bond prices. The rate is fixed for the term of the mortgage. The rate, the term and the amount of monthly payments are fixed. You will know exactly how much you will have to pay each month until the end of your mortgage. You will not have to worry about it. Early repayment (partial or total) can be done at any time. A fee equivalent to 3% of the amount repaid will be charged.

You want your monthly payments to be in line with current interest rates?

Our advice: You should choose a VARIABLE RATE ; this rate is linked to the Euribor 12 months. The rate is revised yearly on the date the mortgage was completed. On the one hand, if the rate decreases, your monthly payments and the cost of your mortgage will be reduced. On the other hand, if the rate increases, please note that your monthly payments will also increase. You can switch to a fixed rate at any moment without any fees. Early repayment (partial or total) can be done at any time without any charges.

You want to balance the risk?

Our advice: Benefit from the mix of a fixed rate for part of the amount and a variable rate for the rest. You will then be able to balance risk and security: your mortgage is divided into 2 parts (all details on fixed and variable rate mortgages are explained above)

You want to take advantage of a good interest rate while you decide upon maximum monthly payment in case the rate increases?

Our advice: You should choose a CAPPED VARIABLE RATE ; a yearly revision of the mortgage's rate is made, based on the benchmark rate with a guaranteed ceiling rate of +2%.

Principle: This is a good compromise between a variable and a fixed rate since you can benefit from a decrease in rates and have security in case of rate increases. Note that you cannot switch to a fixed rate during the mortgage.

Early repayment (partial or total) can be done at any time, a fee equivalent to 3% of the amount reimbursed will be charged.

How much can I borrow?

Under French legislation HSBC France has to check: the income level, its stability over the duration of the mortgage, and the amount of the regular outgoings. This process is done to be sure of the borrower's capacity to repay the mortgage. For this purpose, HSBC France verifies that the total loan repayments (including the requested mortgage) and charges do not exceed 33% of your net monthly income. We suggest you to complete our request and we will contact you very shortly. The final decision and quotation are given by our "Direction du Cr dit", based on many criterias. Each mortgage request is analysed on a case by case basis.

Everything you need to know before starting your project

Steps towards your French property

The purchasing process

1. Consult HSBC France website (www.hsbc.fr) to fill in the online request form. Our specialists will contact you to discuss your project.

2. Find the right property in the right area. You may have already decided on a specific area or may have a French region in mind, perhaps having been there on holiday.

3. Sign the preliminary contract (preliminary sales agreement), once you have found the right property. An initial deposit should be made (usually 10% of the purchase price). Please note that in France the law on Urban Solidarity and Renewal protects the buyer: if you have changed your mind, you can withdraw within 7 days after the day following the presentation of the letter notifying the deed.

By notifying your decision by a registered letter with return receipt within 7 days, you will not have to pay any penalties. From the day following the withdrawal, you must be refunded within 21 days.

4. Fill in the “Buying a home in France” account opening, the mortgage application and the life cover subscription. Once completed, send it to your Relationship Manager with all the requested documents. You will be issued with a mortgage offer (subject to HSBC France approval on your mortgage and insurance applications).

5. Once you have received the mortgage offer, you must wait at least 10 working days (not more than 30) before signing and accepting the offer (conditions of Consumer Law in France).

Finally, sign the documents and send it to your HSBC Relationship Manager who will send a copy to the Notaire.

6. The Notaire prepares the deed of sale to be signed and will request the mortgage funds. As soon as you have signed the relevant documents, you are the owner of a French property : “Welcome to France”!
NB: the length of time between the initial sale contract and completion can vary but it is normally around 2 to 3 months. It is highly recommended that you ensure your new home is insured against damage. The policy must be effective from the same date as the signing of the deed of sale.

The role of the “notaire”

In France, the conveyancing process is undertaken by a notary.

A “notaire” is a publicly appointed official who is responsible for ensuring that the property is habitable (ie, no irregularities) and that the purchase or sale is carried out and legal verifications are made.

As “notaires” are personally responsible for the establishment of the contracts, they must be objective in the advice they give and be impartial in their dealings with the parties involved.

A “notaire” represents neither the seller nor the buyer but the French Government.

Therefore, the same “notaire” usually acts for both the vendor and the purchaser. This is not mandatory and you can appoint your own notaire if you wish.

The fees (paid by the purchaser) are fixed by French legislation (+ local fees).

HSBC France has contacts with many English-speaking notaires in France and can put you in touch with one.

SCI :

A SCI (Société Civile Immobilière) is a propertyholding company. It enables two or more people to buy a property together. As a separate entity, the SCI has administrative and accounting obligations. For any further information on the creation of a SCI and its cost, or tax implications, please contact your notary, your solicitor or the French tax authorities.

Rates and taxation

As soon as you have bought your property, you have to register to the French Taxation Centre for Non-Residents.

“Taxe foncière” (land tax):

The amount of the “Taxe foncière” depends on the size and the location of the property. The tax is paid by the owner of the property on the 1st of January of each year with payment due in the final quarter of the year (owners of new constructions are exempt of tax payment for the first two years).

“Taxe d’habitation” (local services tax):

This tax covers the services and maintenance provided by the local council. The estate agent can inform you of the amount you will have to pay for your new property.

French inheritance laws and Taxation:

If you face inheritance issues, we strongly recommend that you contact specialists. HSBC France has established a list of UK based solicitors specialising in French Property Law. We also have contacts with English speaking notaires throughout France: they can advise you about your specific circumstances and inform you about property taxation applicable to residents and nonresidents.

Feel free to contact us!

Please note that France has signed taxation agreements with most countries which means that you will avoid double taxation.
